1 Corinthians 15:55-57 by Rick Myatt

We all have favorite stories. But today I want you to think about a different kind of story. We are going to think about the story of our own lives, both what that story is, and what it could be. We are going to look at words from an ancient letter from Paul, the apostle, to some confused people in the Greek city of Corinth to get some insight on our own story.
